Our Story

Flat White Cafe was where it all began. A humble street-corner café in Woollahra Sydney where we built our reputation for great food & wonderful service known among our regular customers who all became great friends. A change in lifestyle and the need to accommodate a growing family of four kids saw us move to Bowral & open Grand Bistro. We aim to provide the local community and visitors from afar with our continued style of tasty, honest, rustic food that is always delivered with a warm friendly smile. Always feel free to come say hello and introduce yourself to us because that's when great customers become great friends.
